Enrolled Nursing Scholarship (VET/ Diploma)

ABOUT LOWITJA O'DONOGHUE FOUNDATION

Lowitja O'Donoghue Foundation was established on 1 August 2022 to honour the 90th birthday of Dr Lowitja O'Donoghue AC CBE DSG, and carries forward Dr O'Donoghue's legacy of courageous Aboriginal leadership and her vision of empowering Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples to create meaningful change.

Our scholarship program pays respect to Dr O'Donoghue's extraordinary lifetime of work in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health, as a trailblazer who opened doors, and kept them open, creating opportunities for generations to follow in her footsteps and embrace a future of possibilities.

Dr O'Donoghue is widely recognised as, "the greatest Aboriginal leader of the modern era... the rock who steadied us in the storm" - Noel Pearson

Dr Lowitja O'Donoghue died on 4 February 2024, aged 91 years, on Kurna Country in Adelaide, South Australia.

ABOUT LOWITJA INSTITUTE

Lowitja Institute is Australia's only national Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community controlled health research institute. Lowitja Institute proudly carries the name of its founding chairperson and co-patron, Yankunytjatjara woman the late Dr Lowitja O'Donoghue AC CBE DSG.

For over 20 years, the Institute has worked for the health of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people through high-impact quality research, knowledge exchange, and by supporting a new generation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health researchers.

Lowitja O'Donoghue Foundation – our purpose and beliefs

* indicates a required field

We aspire to become Australia's leading provider of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander-designed and delivered leadership programs, along with other transformational education opportunities, to empower the next generation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander leaders to lead with, and for their communities.

Foundation beliefs

Our beliefs are anchored in the values that defined Dr O'Donoghue's own life and legacy.

- We believe in self-determination and that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples should have control over our own lives empowering us to pursue our economic, social, and cultural development in accordance with our own values and beliefs.
- We believe in equity and that none of us is truly equal until all of us are. We welcome and build respectful relationships with and for all.
- We believe that education is grounded in truth-telling, and through deeply listening to the lived experiences of our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander leaders we can nurture, encourage, strengthen, and inspire future generations of leadership.
- We believe in empowerment of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, enabling us to create meaningful change for ourselves and our communities. This is achieved through mutual understanding, cooperation, and partnership, building on the legacy of those leaders who came before us.
- We believe in standing up and being counted, ensuring the voices of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples are spoken and heard. Our next generation's voices are the change-makers and decision makers of today.
- We believe in bold action now, with courage and selflessness, to create lasting change for today and tomorrow.

Commitment to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health

The late Dr Lowitja O'Donoghue AC CBE DSG believed that,

"... as a matter of priority, there needs to be Aboriginal participation at all levels of health service – policy, administration and practice."
